Tricks not Treats for Fido

Halloween brings ghosts, goblins and delicious treats. Michelle Sevigny, author of DOGSAFE: Everything Your Dog Wants You to Know in an Emergency and founder of the DOGSAFE Canine First Aid courses warns families to keep chocolate Halloween treats out of reach from their dogs as it may be potentially poisonous if ingested.

Chocolate contains an ingredient called theobromine, which if ingested by a dog, may cause vomiting, diarrhoea, panting, excessive thirst, hyperactivity, tremors or even death. Even one ounce of baker's chocolate or 20 ounces of milk chocolate can cause serious problems for a 10-pound dog. "Dogs are scavengers by nature and if they can find the chocolate treats, they may devour them wrapper and all", says Sevigny. If you suspect that your dog has eaten any chocolate, Sevigny urges you to immediately contact your veterinarian or call the National Animal Poison Control Centre at 1-888-426-4435 (24/7).

All Treats at A Spot for Spot are 25% off until Halloween.

Don't forget about your dog on Halloween. A Spot for Spot has reduced all of our healthy treats by 25% until Halloween so that your dog doesn't feel left out.

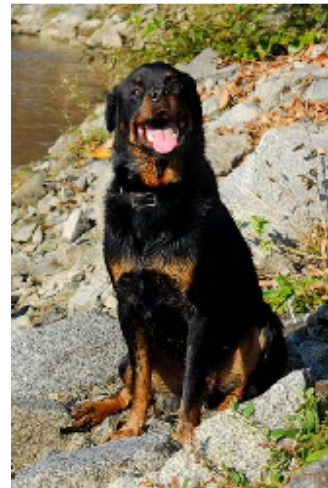

Puppy Social Wednesday Night

Every Wednesday night from 6:30 – 7:15 PM is our Free Puppy Social Drop-in. Supervised by a Certified Master Trainer, Michelle Sevigny. The social is open to all puppies ages 12 -20 weeks with second set vaccinations required. This is a great opportunity for essential puppy socialization in a safe and controlled environment. For More Info: Contact Michelle Sevigny, supervising trainer, 604 813 9221.
